BOARD EDUCATION OPPOSES EFFICIENCY COMMITTEE PLAN

COLLEGE TAKES VACATION WITH STUDES AWAY

Faculty Members Make Use of Holidays for Visits.

CLOSED WEDNESDAY

Prospects Good for New Term After The Holidays.

Merry Christmas! Examinations are over at the college and students are scattering in all directions for the ten days of play which the holidays bring. If all the boys and girls who are enrolled in all departments of the college should go home they would be found in 77 counties of Texas and in twelve other states. Dad's car, the strip down, the busses, the railroads and the good old thumb are all means of securing the needed transportation home to mother and Christmas dinner. One young man said a hitch hike to Oklahoma City in order to spend Christmas at home was not too much for him.

Students who remain in town will find themselves remembered by other students whose homes are here and in the homes of members of the faculty.

An unusually small number of instructors will leave town this year for the vacation. As one teacher explained, "A reduction of six and three fourths percent in salary, warrants which cannot be immediately cashed, and additional responsibilties in my family make visiting out of the question this year," and a survey of the group shows that this is the general situation. Most members of the faculty are helping several students as well as carrying their own families. Happy Christmas season is anticipated with much visiting with neighbors and other towns folk.

Among those who will be away until the opening of school on January 3, are Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, who will visit her brother, Judge E. B. Ritchie, and his family of Mineral Wells, and go with them for a motor trip thru the Rio Grande Valley. Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe will spend the holidays at Pampa.

Mrs. Laura Saunders will spend Christmas at Smithville with her sister, this being her first Christmas trip home in two years.

Miss Anna I. Hibbets will go to her home at Washburn, and Miss Novella Goodman will visit her parents at San Marcos. Miss Jean Moore leaves tonight for Fort Worth.

Dr. Ford Fronabarger will spend a part of the vacation time attending to business in Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shaw will celebrate with Mrs. Shaw's mother in Dallas.

President and Mrs. Hill will remain in town during the holidays, President Hill planning to spend most of the time preparing for the for the coming legislative session.

A few members of the college faculty will make short visits to neighboring towns.

Prospects for Winter Term

The winter term of the college will begin on January third, and classes will meet on January 4. It is expected that attendance will be nearly normal at that time.

At the close of school on Wednesday about the usual number of withdrawals had gone through the offices. It it hoped that most of the students who have been in college this fall will be able to continue through the year.

It is known that there will be some fresh enrollments, although the report that the local college is apt to be reduced in rank is known to have caused some students who expected to come to change their plans. Every effort is being made by the college to counteract the fear which this proposal of the legislative committee has caused.

Closing his desk today, Dr. Hill said, "We are determined that 1933 shall be just as good a year for the college as hard work and courage and careful thought by townspeople, instructors and students can make it."

Christmas Spirit Is To Help Those Less Fortunate

The Spirit of Christmas was discussed Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon by Doug Shirley, who gave a brief history of the feast which developed into the present method of Christmas celebration. The spirit of Christmas today is to help those who are less fortunate, stated Mr. Shirley, which seems to be the spirit which should be manifested at this time.

Christmas songs were sung by the club, following which Herschel Coffee gave a program of violin solos of Christmas music, accompanied by Miss Frances Usery.

The club will not meet next Tuesday owing to the holiday period. The next meeting will be January 3rd when Rotary Ann night will be observed.

Christmas means Christ's Mass, stated Mr. Shirley. The general observation of this feast was not started until the 5th century. Jan. 6th was the first date set, later March 5th, and finally December 25 was accepted as the date for the celebration. The Tutonic races alone observe this time with gifts. Santa Claus developed in Germany with the idea that there should be some one to present the gifts. The Yule log marked the length of the celebration, it being placed in the fire place the day before Christmas, and the celebration continued until it was burned in two. The Christmas card was not developed until 1846.

Christmas Tree to Be Held By Empty Stocking Committee

The Federated Clubs of the city, sponsors of the Empty Stocking Crusade, will have a Christmas Tree for the needy children of the city in the Federated club room at the court house Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Admittance will be by ticket only, and these tickets may be procured from Mrs. John S. Humphreys, chairman of the crusade, or Mrs. H. O. Price.

The sponsors of the crusade, says Mrs Humphreys and Mrs. Price, wish to take this opportunity to thank those who have donated articles in the interest of the movement and the following for cash donations: The Fire Boys, Mrs. Ed Harrell, and Mr. J. W. Reid, and Mr. Fred Wortham for services rendered.

Henry B. Beckman Died Thursday, p. m. Of Heart Attack

Henry Bernard Beckman, aged 65 years, died Thursday night at his home near Umbarger as the result of a heart attack. Mr. Beckman had been in good health, and had completed his daily work. He had waited upon Mrs. Beckman, who was confined to her bed with illness. He fell while removing the dishes for her evening meal, and died immediately.

Mr. Beckman was one of the most prominent farmers of Randall county. He was born in Germany, June 13, 1867. He came to America and settled at Elgin, Illinois. The family moved to Randall county 25 years ago. The family is among the best known and prosperous in the county.

Surviving him are his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Jim Cannon of Amarillo; Mrs. Durwood Gordon of Amarillo; Mrs. Walt Harrison of Burbank, Calif.; and one son, Fred Beckman of Umbarger. Seven brothers and two sisters also survive, John and Anton Beckman of this county; Crist, Bernard, August and Bill Beckman, all of Elgin, Ill.; Mrs. Will Connery and Mrs. Ostdeck, both of Illinois.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the St. Mary's church, conducted by Father Dolje. The deceased was an active member of the Catholic church. Active pall bearers were Charles, Walter, Clarence and Henry W. Beckman, all nephews of the deceased, John Bedenk and Tony Hartman. Honorary pall bearers were G. G. Foster, Grady Oldham, R. E. Baird, Scott Downing, Sam Meador, Wm. Ash, M. W. Hess, Clark Dowlen, Clyde McElroy and Barney Conner.

Interment was in the Dreamland cemetery, under the direction of the Griggs - Thompson Funeral home.

SANTA MAKES VISIT HERE TO CHILDREN

Live Turkeys, Cash, and Treats Are Given Monday.

LARGE CROWD COMES

Snow and Cold Does Not Stop Enthusiasm for Christmas.

Gifts of turkeys, cash, and treats for the children from the hands of Old Santa himself made for a jolly day in Canyon Monday, with scores of Randall county people coming to Canyon to participate in the festivities, and greatly enjoying the day.

Cold weather and heavy snows kept many away. But the adverse circumstances did not check the enthusiasm for one minute of the several hundred who thronged the streets of the city during the day, and took an active and interested part in the program which had been provided by the Chamber of Commerce for the day's festivities.

Live turkeys which had been freed from the window of the district court room were chased thru the business section soon after noon, and were captured to be served by the lucky persons on their Christmas tables.

Cash awards and the treats for children drew several hundred to the court house at 4:30 where Old Santa greeted the children and gave each a bag of candies and nuts.

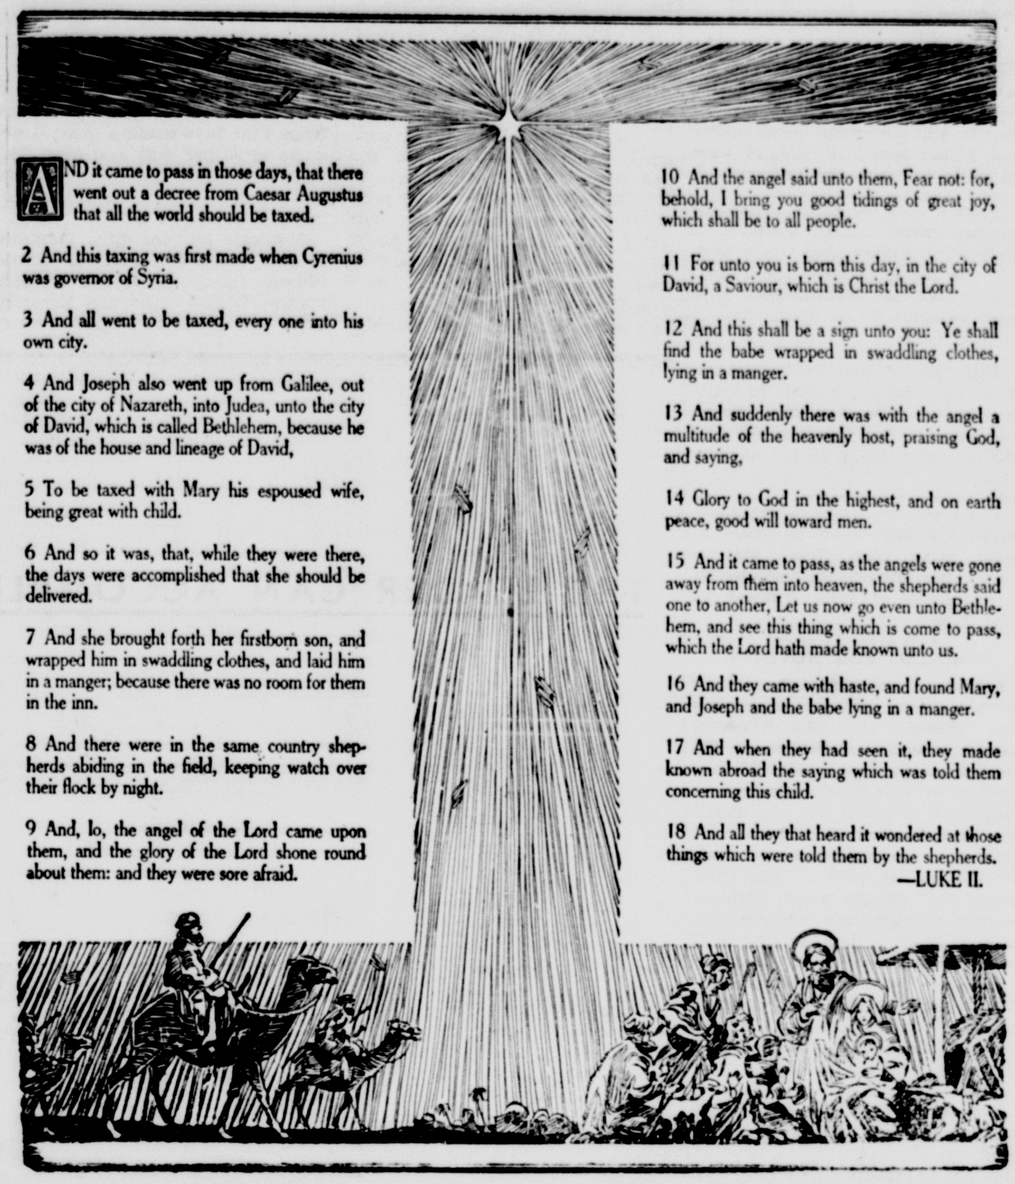
THE FIRST CHRISTMAS



AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.

2 And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David,

6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

Monday Observed as Holiday In Canyon by Business Houses

Owing to the fact that Christmas comes on Sunday, most of the business houses will remain closed Monday to observe a holiday.

Inventory time will start in practically all of the business houses Monday, the day of closing affording an excellent time for this annual feature.

Madrigal Club In Christmas Program Given at College

The College Madrigal Club made a beautiful contribution to the Christmas programs of the town, when on Sunday at four thirty a vesper service was given by it in the College Auditorium.

The program was composed entirely of carols, French Noels and other songs which the nations have sung at Christmas time for many, many years. Mr. Wallace R. Clark conducted the club.

The story of the Nativity was read from St. Luke by Mr. T. M. Clark.

It is the plan of the college to make this service an annual event, with all the people of the community joining in it. Guests from other towns will be welcome.

Following is the program of the first Christmas service of the Club:

Break Forth, O Beauteous, Heav'nly Light—Bach.

Jesu dulcis—Motet—Vittoria.

The Morning Star on High is Glowing—Praetorius.

Holly Song (not sacred)—Corbin.

"The Story of the Nativity" (St. Luke) by T. M. Clark.

Noel—Gavaert.

Three old Bohemian Christmas songs: "Hail, All Hail, the Glorious Morn," "The Angels and Shepherds," "Let All Men Sing God's Praises."

Holy Night—Gruber.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Elliston and family are leaving tomorrow for Hereford, to spend the holidays with Mr. Elliston's father, A. H. Elliston.

Terrible Swedes Are Conquered by Buffs In Opening Season

The Buffaloes started the basketball season last night in typical Buff fashion by handing the Terrible Swedes from Missouri the small end of a 46-22 score. The Buffs sprung into action at the opening of the session and not once relinquishing the comfortable lead which was piled up.

The Buffs, tallest team in the world, showed all characteristics which Coach "Sad" Sam Burton believes they possess; that is, being capable of winning this year's go at the Kansas City National Tournament. This is the goal toward which the team is working for the season in view of the fact that Tech is the only college in Texas which would schedule a game with the Buffs this season.

The two teams will play again tonight at Buffalo Gym at 8:00 o'clock.

C. P. Hileman Died Tuesday at Home Near City

C. P. Hileman died Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at his farm 18 miles southwest of Canyon. He was 86 years, 9 months and 15 days of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Hileman was born in Indiana on March 5, 1846. The family moved to Grayson county, Texas in 1902. He has lived on the same farm in Randall county for 30 years. Mrs. Hileman preceded him in death nearly two years ago.

Surviving are six sons, C. P. Hileman, Jr., of Clovis, R. E., J. N., W. L., J. T., and J. P.

Word was received this week of the death of the father of P. L. Haynes, formerly of Canyon. His father died of heart trouble Sunday. About three weeks ago his mother, who had been an invalid some time, died.

MISSION NOT TO DESTROY, SAYS WASHER

State Board Will Make Own Report to the Legislature.

APPROVES COLLEGES

Would Make Function In All Better For Education.

The State Board of Education does not approve the report of the Economy and Efficiency Committee in its efforts to practically abolish the teachers colleges of Texas, and will make a report to the legislature in January as to its findings in regard to these insstitutions, and to all of the state educational institutions of the state.

Members of the board expressed dissatisfaction that the economy committee should have trespassed upon the field of education.

This attitude of the state board was explained in Fort Worth Saturday by Nat Washer, San Antonio, chairman, in addressing the executive committee of the Texas State Teachers Association. Washer said the principal purpose of the state board meetings here is to to draft its recommendations for presentation to the Legislature. The report will not be made public property at the conclusion of the sessions, and will be carefully studied before submission to the law-making body of Texas. Dr. J. A. Hill, retiring president of the Texas State Teachers Association, attended the meeting.

Washer told the executive committee that when the state board was established authority for a survey of the institutions of higher learning and courses of study so as to prevent duplication, was conferred. The board sought $75,000 for this survey, but finally was granted only $12,000, the chairman related.

Units Earnestly Created

He proceeded, "I said to the Senate and the House committees that if we had the power to disrupt the whole system of higher education in Texas, we wouldn't do it, because every unit was created after earnest thought. We come not to destroy, but to fulfill the prophecies of these institutions." Washer added that it was against his better judgment that the state board allowed the committee to sit with them, and also invited the State Board of Control. This was during discussions of the survey.

Washer complained that "there is no reason why this legislative committee should have gone out over the State, stolen our thunder and have taken the material we have given them, and then say that these institutions should be abolished. The object of the State Board of Education is to co-ordinate all these institutions of learning and to help them build up if possible.

"We are not going to the Legislature begging for more power, but it is our opinion that everything touching education in Texas should be referred to the State Board of Education."

The chairman declared that the board should have the authority to select the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, since the board is particularly able to choose a man of executive qualifications and educational ability. The board also should have authority to make rules for the certification of teachers, Washer said.

Sale Tax Urged

As the things needful in an educational system, he named good buildings, good teachers and good curricula. Teachers are the most important, Washer said.

He commented that "teachers are being made to pay for the fine buildings financed by bond issues. Children could acquire an education in a log cabin, if there were good teachers."

Washer took his seat, but jumped up to declare in a ringing tone that "we are all for economy, but the last place to practice it is in education."

The efficiency and organization committee of the Legislature has recommended closing five teachers

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

With cold weather, and short purses, the annual talk about lower utilities rates is on. The gas rates, telephone rates, light rates, and even the city's water rates are all condemned. "Experts" are making the rounds telling city commissions that if they were hired, rates would be forced down. Some towns have hired these "experts" but are still paying the high rates. What to do, no one can tell you. Col. E. O. Thompson advised Mayor Burrow last week that the hands of the Railroad Commission were tied since the Governor vetoed the bill giving the Commission authority to act in towns of less than 5,000. This bill will be passed again by the coming session of the legislature, and perhaps signed by Governor Ferguson. What is an equitable utility rate no one but an authority can tell. Too many experts are a long way from being authorities on rate questions.

Arthur Brisbane now says that if Henry Ford, a total abstainer, would only have indulged in wines his recent operation would not have been necessary. Brisbane also credits all of the crime of the day, and all of the depression to prohibition. By deduction, we take it that according to his way of thinking when booze flows freely again, all of the medical schools may be closed, for everyone will be well; all of the hospitals torn down, for there will be no patients, excepting those hurt by drunken drivers; there will be no need for jails or penitentiaries, because booze will make everyone perfect angels; and there will be more money for the government to spend than it knows what to do with. Sometimes we think Brisbane is the craziest writer in America, although the highest paid and most widely read.

Jim Ferguson in his paper last week said it was the belief of himself and Mrs. Ferguson that all salaries should be reduced 25 per cent, and other appropriations in like proportion. Heads of the colleges and various institutions have asked Mrs. Ferguson for a conference in order to discuss this matter before the legislature convenes. Mr. Ferguson did not discuss the college question in his paper last week—which was the one outstanding question in the state that he overlooked. The Fergusons have always held kindly toward education, and it is hinted that recommendations of the economy and efficiency committee will not suit the Ferguson idea. At least that is what folks out this way are hoping.

There never was a time when folks in Canyon needed to stand together as they do now. The citizens should spend their money at home instead of running away from local institutions hoping that they may save a few cents. The business houses have a great responsibility toward the college in its fight, and should be putting up the necessary money with which to carry on this campaign through the Chamber of Commerce. College faculty and students should stay with Canyon merchants and people who are helping in this fight. In fact, this is one community in which each and every citizen needs the support of each and every other citizen.

The Odessa Chamber of Commerce and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce were the first to pass resolutions condemning the tampering with the educational system of Texas. They wish the state to be run economically, to be sure, but realize the foolishness on the part of the state which would prohibit educational advantages to the children of the state for the sake of a few tax dollars. The college presidents realize that all economy possible must be inaugurated, but crippling the educational advantages of the boys and girls is not economy.

There will be a lot of complaining about taxes until January 31st. That is the annual custom, but will probably be worse this year than ever before. However, the citizen who sits down and carefully thinks through the numerous blessings that he receives on account of his taxes will gladly pay his part of running the government if he has the money, or can borrow it. Remove the government, and there is chaos.

The women of Canyon have been doing a wonderful work in the community chest and empty stocking crusade. The reports of their activities are evidence of the fact that they have a vital interest in the welfare of the unfortunate people of Canyon, and wish to make their burdens a little lighter. It is hoped that they shall be able to reach every home which might otherwise be deprived of the semblance of the Christmas spirit.

It must be assumed that anyone in Canyon who will not support the Chamber of Commerce in its fight to retain W. T. as a standard four-year college has no interest in the future of the college and cares nothing as to what happens. This being the case, the people of Canyon are entitled to know who is in this fight, and who is paying the expenses of the fight.

This snow was fine—just what had to come for the sake of the wheat. There have been a few good wheat crops raised on the Plains without some good snows, but wheat seems to demand snow in order to make the best growth.

France, and the other defaulting nations, were mighty thankful to receive the dollars from Uncle Sam, but now refuse to repay the money. Uncle Sam has perhaps learned a most valuable lesson about making foreign loans.

With all of the cold weather, there have been few fires in Canyon. This means that the citizens are watching for fire hazards, and are removing them so far as possible.

Those economy boys in the legislature are fine when it comes to doing away West Texas institutions. But mind you, they would leave plenty of state colleges in East Texas.

WORKING FOR NOTHING

Believe it or not, the average Canyon citizen works 61 days every year without any pay whatever merely to settle his share of the cost of government. In 1924, according to government figures, 46 days were required to pay taxes, and in 1913 about 25 days.

Actually, taxpayers do not work for nothing of course. For their money they get protecton, national security, educate their children, ride on good roads, enjoy the best mail distribution in the world. But the hard fact remains that modern benefits are entirely out of proportion to what they cost. In the last 16 years taxes in this country have increased 150 per cent. The indirect effect of all this has been the impairment of real estate values, tax evasion, and unemployment.

No man expects to enjoy the benefits of his nation, state and county without paying a reasonable amount in return for those benefits. But to require him to work 61 days, two whole months out of every year, to pay his share of the tax bill is carrying taxation to the point where it becomes dangerous. There must be relief, and it must come at a very early date. Americans are pretty generally agreed that one thing responsible for all their troubles right now is the rapidly-growing number of tax delinquencies in every community. And they are likewise confident the nation's troubles will end when taxation schedules are revised and made fair, so there will be no cause for "tax dodging" or tax evasion.

Those who offer the most criticism generally have the least to recommend them as models to follow.

About all a fellow realizes on some stock investments is what a fool he was.

Always park beside a new and shiny car. It will back out without touching yours.

CHEVROLET

PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

THIS is Chevrolet Week throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—is now on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Syncro-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try!

DUFLOT CHART EXPOSES EDUCATIONAL FALLACY

By J. L. Duflot

AFTER CLOSING CANYON COLLEGE, THEN WHAT?

By J. L. DUFLOT

The above chart reveals what would happen to teacher training in the Panhandle of Texas should the recommendations of the Joint Committee on Economy be adopted by the incoming legislature. Where would our prospective teachers go for professional training if the Teachers College at Canyon were closed? Probably this committee would answer, "Go down to the University of Texas, The A. and M. College, or Sam Houston Teachers College."

If the legislature should close the doors of the West Texas State Teachers College and virtually tell the people of the Panhandle to send their prospective teachers to one of the universities located, for example, at Tuscon, Arizona; Laramie, Wyoming; Boulder, Colorado; Lincoln, Nebraska; Lawrence, Kansas, or Fayettevile, Arkansas, all of which lie approximately in the same radius as Austin with Amarillo as the center, the uprising in the Panhandle would be so violent that a division of the state would probably be demanded. This is exactly what the Joint Committee proposes to recommend when its actions are considered in terms of distances. The absurdity of this idea becomes all the more apparent if the committee had suggested that the people living within the area of Austin should go to Canyon for teacher training.

Teacher training institutions in Texas have as their objective the professionalization of the class-room teacher. Liberal arts colleges are concerned primarily with the teaching of subject matter for its cultural value alone. The teachers college is no less diligent in emphasizing this idea, but, in addition, it has another function to perform, namely, that of developing a professional technique in class-room instruction, or inculcating a practical understanding of the variations of human nature, and of acquainting the student with the best principles and practices underlying educational organization and administration. Where would our prospective teachers fo to secure instruction shoud the committee's recommendation be enacted into law? Probably it would suggest, "Go down to Huntsville, Texas," as though that were only a short distance from the Panhandle. If it had suggesed that our prospective teachers go to such distances as Silver City, New Mexico, Flagstaff, Arizona, Greely, Colorado, Kearney, Nebraska, Emporia or Pittsburg Kansas, Durant, Oklahoma, or Springfield, Missouri, for this specialized training, the people of West Texas would treat the idea as a huge joke. But the Huntsville school lies approximately in the same radius as the teacher training institutions in the cities just named.

After the Canyon Teachers College is closed, then what? One of two things will occur. Either the efficiency of the class-room teachers in the Panhandle area will eventually be lowered to what it was fifteen years ago, or if the present standards are maintained, the positions will be filled by men and women from South Central Texas or from other states where teacher training facilities are provided.

It is said that this committee received a sum of $50,000.00 to make this survey in the interest of a money economy. If it had received a sum of $100,000.00, they might have strained the economy program to the point of recommending the abolition of all state institutions with the exception of the university of Texas and A. and M. This program would confine the opportunities of higher education to the people of Central Texas, leaving the people of West Texas the glorious privilege of paying taxes for college support without sharing its benefits!

THE PEOPLES STORE

CHRISTMAS would be just like any other day in the year if it were not for kind thoughts and deeds—for cheery words spoken and efforts put forth to make others happy. This good season, when gifts are given—when happy thoughts enter our minds, when we are filled with a spirit of gladness and a desire to give all these elements of the Yuletide heightened charm.

LIKEWISE our business would be just like any other business were it not for the hundred and one things, small and large, which help to make our business a pleasure to us and, we trust a source of satisfaction to our patrons. Aside from the business we have transacted during the year now drawing to a close, we list among the achievements accomplished the forming of new friendships and the strengthening of the ties which held our old "stand-bys." We find pleasure in going to particular pains to supply our patrons with courteous and efficient service in order that we may give complete satisfaction.

We wish you all the joy of the Christmas season.

Letters Express Attitudes Held By West Texans

Letters from many prominent West Texans have been received by the Administration of W. T. during the past week which very pointedly reveals the sentiment entertained by people all over this part of the state regarding the proposed economy measures of the Legislative Committee.

From a county superintendent in a large south Plains county comes the following message:

"I have read in the press recently of the recommendation of the Legislative Committee relative to the Teachers Colleges of Texas. Their recommendation does not look like economy to me. It looks more like an attempt to impair the preparation and training of worthwhile teachers and public school children of the state. I shall advise my Representative and Senator."

From a prominent member of the bar in a north Texas county:

"It happens that I am a member of the Legislative Committee of the County Judges Stat Association and expect to spend some time in Austin during the time of the meeting of the next session of the Legislature, and I assure you that I will oppose any action of the Legislature attempting to lower the standards of any of the State Teachers Colleges or to withdraw any support now being given them. I further believe that I can enlist the support and influence of the State organization of the County Judges Organization to oppose any action of the Legislature tending to take a backward step in our educational program."

"I am certainly for defeating any measure calculated to reduce the efficiency of the Canyon College. To my mind it is about all the state has done for us in an educational way, this aside from the fact that we, the Panhandle, pay thousands of dollars into the educational fund which is used in other parts of the state. This alone should be sufficient to defeat the proposed measure. It looks like the "Piney Woods" and the "seed-tick regions of the state are trying to drive the Panhandle from under the "Lone Star" banner."

A prominent lawyer in Tyler, Texas, writes that he is contacting all the members of the Legislature from east Texas that he possibly can. He especially is working with the Democratic State Committee of Texas. "I am opposed to changing the teachers colleges or West Texas Tech, C. I. A. or any other of the colleges and shall do whatever I can to prevent the undoing of the work we have done during the past seventeen years."

Student Injured While At Work In M. T. Department

Ernest Baker, sophomore from Earth, Texas, suffered a painful injury to both hands last Thursday while at work in the Manual Training shops. While operating a jointer machine, he had the tips of three fingers on one hand and four on the other mangled but not severed as was at first reported.

An attending physician states that the injury will heal rapidly if no complications arise. Baker spent the week-end in the College infirmary where he might be under the expert care of a trained nurse.

Use of the injured members of his hands will not be impaired, although scars on one or two fingers will probably remain for some time.

The accident was the result of daring manipulation of the machine leading to carelessness.

TOO FULL FOR WORDS.

Traveler: "Who's the close-mouthed individual over in the corner? He hasn't spoken for ten minutes."

Villager: "Hy Blackmore. He ain't close-mouthed; he's jest waitin' till Pete comes back with the spittoon."

MUST BE CABBAGE LEAVES

"I would like to give my uncle a hundred of these cigars. Can you think of how I can give him even greater pleasure?"

"Yes. Give him only fifty."

Now we understand where that German word "Junkers," comes from. Germany's been junking one government after another.

We can't have everything just to suit. The more prosperous the times, the less the parking space.

When a fellow is able to go through college because his passing and punting ability makes him worth the tuition to some university—that's what you call hire education.

Sir Harry Lauder Will Sing Tuesday Dec. 27, Amarillo

Sir Harry Lauder, again singing his way around the world on an extensive tour, will appear in Amarillo the night of December 27th.

Sir Harry will sing many of his old songs, as well as new ones, and will appear in Scottish costume for many of them. Three years ago he was in Amarillo, and was "The whole show." This year he has a company of 30 entertainers with him, including his own orchestra. Dancers, singers and other performers make up the cast.

Of special interest to Panhandle folks will be the appearance of Sir Harry's company of two Dalhart youngsters, who have just completed a tour of Europe. They are Maidie and Ray Blatherwick, who put on a western act of rope twirling and other stunts that is difficult to equal.

Unusually low prices for entertainment of this caliber will prevail, according to Wilbur C. Hawk, who booked the show for the benefit of the Tri-State Fair Association. They will range from 55 cents to $2.20, including government tax. Mail orders may be addressed to Mr. Hawk, care of the News-Globe, Amarillo, and tickets will be returned if remittance and three cents postage are enclosed.

The famous Scottish comedian will appear in Roswell the night of December 26, following a week's rest over Christmas. He will be in Amarillo the following night, and will go to Lubbock December 28 from here.

New Interscholastic Rules Made for the 1933 Declamations

A copy of the 1932 Supplement to the Constitution and Rules of the University Interscholastic League has been received by Miss Birda Hastings, recently elected Director of Declamation in Randall county.

"There are two important changes in the rules this year affecting the declamation contest," said Miss Hastings. First, there is a new division provided for in county meets accommodating only high school juniors, that is, pupils under fifteen years of age who have been promoted to the eighth grade or higher. This supplants the old rule which allowed such juniors to compete in the senior division.

"Second, the re-classification of schools will cause some schools which last year participated in the rural division to be transferred to the high school division.

"In most other respects, the declamation rules are the same as those of last year. The junior divisions use standard poetry for declaiming, and the senior divisions are confined to prose selections.

"This contest is designed to train boys and girls in the art of sincere and effective public speaking and at the same time contribute to their mental enrichment by requiring them to memorize prose and poetry by the great literary masters. It is hoped that there will be a large number of entries in this contest at our county meet."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Today the Christian nations of the world celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, who taught us the blessedness of loving and giving. In the hearts of each of us, we commemorate the birth of this Prince of Love in a day of unselfish thoughts, kind deeds, and loving gifts. Our thoughts are centered on the happiness of those whom we love, and we think of giving rather than of receiving. As we recount the joys that have been ours, there rank uppermost the friendship and confidence of the people of Canyon and Randall County, and the privilege of having served you, our public, to the best of our ability. May all the happiness of the Christmas season be yours today!

THE EAGLE'S TALE

Girls, Win, Boys Defeated in Pampa Game Saturday

After traveling to Pampa thru the snow and cold Saturday evening, the Eagles went down in defeat before the Pampa Harvesters Saturday night in their second cage encounter of the season.

The Harvesters amassed 45 points to the Eagles 16. Ogden Stroud, Eagle guard, was high point scorer for the Eagles. He scored 12 of the Eagles' 16 points. The scoring honors of the Harvesters were well divided, each player making enough to defeat the Eagles.

To counteract the Eagles' defeat, the Canyon girls defeated the Harvester sextet 22-21 in a fast game that required two extra periods.

Velma Crawford, forward, was high scorer for the Eagle sextet. Mable Schmitz, Athalie Overton and Armor Lee Greenfield were other outstanding Eagle players.

WHEN AN EDITOR TELLS THE TRUTH

Now and then an editor tells the unvarnished truth. Usually when he does there is a funeral the next day.

Up in Indiana an editor was tired of being called a liar, so he decided to tell the truth. He announced in advance that in the next week's issue of his paper would be contained a number of truthful items. He had more nerve than most newspaper editors. Read what he said:

John Doyle, our grocery man is doing poor business. His store is dusty and dirty. How can he do much?

The Rev. Sty preached Sunday night on "Charity." The sermon was punk.

Married—Miss Sylvia Rhodes and James Collins, last Sunday at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary town girl, who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jackrabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty and has grit like a duck. The groom is an up to date loafer. He has been living off the folks at home all his life and is not worth shucks. It is a hard life.

Died—age 56 years, 6 months and 13 days. Deceased was a mild mannered pirate with a mouthful of whiskey. He came here in the night with another man's wife and joined the church at the first chance. He owes us several dollars on the paper, his meat bills, and you could hear him pray six blocks. He died singing "Jesus Paid It All," and we think he is right—he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos casket and his friends threw palm leaf fans into the grave as he may need them. —Exchange.

There isn't enough money in the world to hire some people to ride in an airplane, yet they will cross the street on a busy day in the middle of the block without looking either way.

The small boy may think he has a hard life because he must wash his ears now and then, but wait until he grows up and has to shave every day.

EX-STUDENT ASSOCIATION IN RAPID GROWTH

The Ex-Student Association is now at its height of strength. The president, Lee Foster, has predicted that the association will grow this year. Dorothy Faye Rusk fills the position as vice-president, while Dalma Fry is secretary. The association consists of a constitution, by-laws and committees. The association will meet soon and formulate plans for the ensuing year.

WOMEN RULE FACTORIES

Women forced sink manufacturers increase the heght of their product so that back strain would be eliminated from kitchen work. Packaged foods line the pantry shelves of the woman whose mother insisted on cooking everything she placed on her dining room table. She demands new beauty in all her furniture and home decorations.

Even the household washer has come in for special attention from womankind, according to the American washing machine manufacturers' association. "Today it is transformed, because women want it to harmonize with all other features of home improvement," it says. "Today's models are finished to harmonize with practically any color scheme.

This change has come in response to women's demands, just as other changes have come in this year's washers. The result is that when a woman is seen hanging out clothes it's no sign she's a washerwoman. Many housewives are undertaking tasks they formerly gave to others. The change has been hastened by the ease with which it has become possible to perform once difficult operations.

The old hours of drudgery and backbreaking labor have been taken out of washday. The housewife mindful of her appearance begins her Monday work as willingly as she faces any other day in the Week.

We build on our mistakes, if we are wise, but our successes often have the opposite effect.

The talkative child in the neighborhood may grow up to be a radio announcer, who knows.

It isn't merely the things you say that count. It's how, when and to whom you say them.

Grade School To Have White Christmas Tree

In order to help give the needy of Canyon a cheerful Christmas, the entire Canyon Grade School will meet this afternoon and have a White Christmas Tree in the gymnasium of the Grade School Building.

The purpose of the White Christmas Tree is to give a cheerful Christmas to the needy, unemployed, and poverty stricken citizens of Canyon.

It is a very noble deed for such a large group of youngsters to combine their efforts in making every home in Canyon, happy next Christmas morn.

Because of the loud noise during the noon hour a new rule has been made. No one will be permitted to loiter in the halls at noon. Students who wish to study may go to their class-rooms and study. Students who do not wish to work will not be permitted to stay in the building. This will help to remedy the noise.

Because a man appears to be hardboiled is no indication that on occasion he can't be as tender as a mother.

To speak fluently in public is a rare gift, but to say the correct thing at the right time is one of the most precious of all heritages.

Many a chap who thought he loved at first sight has been entirely cured when he took another look.

Warwick Speaks To Assembly On Government Wed.

"Our Responsibilities to Our Government," was the subject on which Mr. Clyde W. Warwick spoke to the students at the chapel period, Dec. 15.

Mr. Warwick told the students not to speak of our government in an unfriendly way, "because if you do you are speaking of your parent, friends and neighbors who elect our law makers. Don't ever disfigure any public property because your parents pay for these and you shall pay for these some day. Each of you will be responsible for your governments some day."

Mr. Warwick's talk was considered very worth while by all of the students.

IMPRESSIONS

There is an old saying, "First impressions are lasting." In many cases this is proved to be untrue.

Often when I am introduced to a person, I inspect him closely and my thoughts run thus:

"He may be all right, but he don't look like my kind. I don't like him."

Then, when I really know the person, I find him altogether different from my opinion I even begin to like him.

Another thought of which I suppose we are all guilty is the exact reverse. We meet a person, are favorably impressed and immediately open up our hearts and past life to him. But the more we see of this person, the less we think of him; and, to our sorrow, we think of the many things we have told him that we wish he didn't know.

Speaking from experience, I say that forming your impression of a person the first time you see him is a dangerous habit. It gets you into many embarrassing situations.

Speak gently of your neighbor in adversity. You may want to borrow a dollar from him some day.

Merry Christmas? Well, Hardly That For Me, Says Mary Christmas

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The Christmas season is a merry one all right, Mary Christmas agrees, but practical jokers seem to join forces to try and make it a doleful one for her. Every time the Yuletide rolls around, friends and strangers alike take advantage of her unusual name to "kid" her.

"About this time each year," Mrs. Christmas complains, "the telephone starts ringing day and night. When I pick up the receiver, I hear, 'Hello, is this Mary Christmas?' 'Yes,' I reply. And then, invariably, whoever is on the other end of the line cries, 'When is Happy New Year coming?' then giggles uproariously and hangs up.

"Last Christmas," she continued, "I was up at the top of a ladder decorating our tree. The telephone rang and I nearly broke my neck rushing to answer it, only to hear someone say with a chuckle, 'What time does Santa arrive?'" Mrs. Christmas sighed wearily. "You just can't blame me for worrying about the American sense of humor!

"When my own family or friends kid me, I don't mind it in the least. In fact, I laugh with them because I enjoy a joke as much as anyone. But when perfect strangers—and you have no idea how many—keep me on the run answering these trick phone calls, just so they may have a laugh at my expense—well, it's a bit monotonous."

MARY CHRISTMAS is really the name of this young woman. Born Mary Sloan, she became Mrs. Henry N. Christmas about five years ago. "Christmas," she explains, "is an old English name. My husband's ancestors came over from the north of England years ago. And 'Mary Christmas' is not an unusual name in his family. That was the name of his mother and a sister-in-law, although the latter has changed it to Marie."

Try as she might, Mrs. Christmas has not been able to get her friends to introduce her as "Mrs. Henry Christmas." They insist on shouting "Here comes Mary Christmas," no matter what time of year it is, just to get a laugh out of everyone present. But she doesn't mind it much. "After all," she says, "it brings pleasure to people, so I don't begrudge it to them."

Mrs. Christmas displayed her sense of humor by naming her pet dog, a pure cocker spaniel, Jiminy. Several months ago it was lost, and newspapers carried the news to the entire city that Mary Christmas' dog, Jiminy Christmas, was lost. She had him back in 24 hours.

Each year Mrs. Christmas and her husband lend their help in seeing that the children of their neighborhood have a fine holiday. They have no children of their own. "But if we had," Mrs. Christmas maintains, laughingly, "I would name my daughter Merry Christmas and my son Happy Christmas, and thumb my nose at the world."

Educational Program To Be Formed By State Committees

"Executives or State Colleges and members of the Texas State Teachers Association are as eager to bring about economies in the entire State School system as any group of citizens in Texas," said Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers College when he returned Monday from a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas State Teachers Association at Fort Worth.

The meeting which Dr. Hill attended was called at the request of State Superintendent-elect, L. A. Woods and its purpose was to work out a legislative program which will be endorsed by the State Department of Education and the State Teachers Association and which will secure needed economies without crippling the State School system.

The amendment which exempts homesteads from taxation will automatically reduce the revenues of the state so much that additional sources of revenue must be found or the public school system will be in ruins.

W. C. Blankenship, Superintendent of Schools at Big Spring headed a committee which drew up eighteen resolutions, looking toward savings in the State's bill for education without penalizing the youth. On the committee were L. A. Wood, J. A. Hill, and H. L. Mills, business manager of the Houston Public Schools.

Dr. J. A. Hill was appointed chairman of a committee of five which will meet with a like committee from the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural Conference of Dallas. The members to serve with Dr. Hill are R. T. Ellis secretary of the State Teachers Association, Bonner Frizzell of Palestine, Miss Eula Hunter of Ft. Worth, and Dr. Pittinger of Austin. Members of the other committee have not yet been announced, but the chairman of this conference, C. A. Jay has announced that his committee will be named soon and a meeting called.

It is hoped that at this meeting educators and financiers can get together on an educational program which will safeguard both. It will be the first time that such a conference has been planned.

Superintendent H. W. Stilwell of Texarkana, recently elected president of the State Teachers Association presided at the meeting.

DR. R. P. JARRETT CONDUCTS INSTITUTE

Dr. R. P. Jarrett returned Saturday from Dalhart where he had delivered three lectures to the general sessions of the Dallam County Teachers Institute. The general theme of the Institute, which had been planned by Superintendent H. A. Finch, and County Superintendent Floyd McNeill, was "Character Education," and Dr. Jarrett's addresses were "Character Education in the School" and "Present Trends in Character Education."

Dr. Jarrett reported that the Institute was one in which the teachers of the county did much of the work and did it excellently.

A feature of the Institute was a breakfast given jointly by ex-students of Texas Technological College and W. T. More than fifty were present and a joint organization was effected, its purpose social and educational. Lloyd Rhodes, a graduate of the local college was made president. Dr. Jarrett talked at the breakfast program, outlining the possibilities of the organization and mentioning some of the present problems of education in Texas.

colleges and reducing the rank of several other state schools.

The executive committee of the State Teachers Association recommended adoption of a general sales tax by the State to compensate for the loss of school revenues through enactment of the constitutional homestead tax exemption. A law compelling school districts to pay interest on warrants or script issued in payment of teachers' salaries also will be sponsored by the organization.

Lubbock to Help Canyon in Fight To Keep Schools

Offering assistance to Lubbock in the fight to maintain Tech, and urging co-operation among all institutions affected by the recent proposal to limit the scope of the educational institutions, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce has received the following reply from Lubbock, which is typical of the response received from other towns:

Mr. Clyde W. Warwick, President,
Chamber of Commerce,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Mr. Warwick:

Both personally and on behalf of Lubbock and the Tech and the South Plains section, I want to thank you for your letter of December 9.

In our opinion it is now up to West Texas to stand shoulder to shoulder and fight for our rights. In our opinion, the time has come for West Texas to demand proper recognition and credit as well as equity and justice from the entire State, and certainly the recommendation in regard to your school and our school and other West Texas schools is not fair, equitable or just.

We could give you dozens of illustrations where West Texas has been legislated against, ignored and, we could almost say, sneered at by other parts of the State.

It has been our opinion that West Texas should work with every other section of the State and every other section of the State should work with West Texas, all for the good of the State as a whole, but it seems that other sections absolutely will not accept this policy or ideal, and if they won't we do not know anything to do but for every community in West Texas to join hands and demand what is right and equitable and fair for West Texas.

While our people are very much aroused and are ready and willing to do everything within their power to fight for the interests of all West Texas, to date we have not developed a definite plan to fight this committee recommendation.

When we do I will communicate with you further and, in the meantime, I will appreciate you keeping me advised as to any information you receive or progress you make. You can depend on us co-operating with you in every legitimate way possible.

Again thanking you for your letter and offer of co-operation, I am,

Sincerely yours,
A. B. DAVIS, Manager,
Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

BREVITY

A cub reporter, frequently reprimanded for prolixity and warned to be brief, turned in the following:

"A shocking affair occured last night. Sir Edward Hopeless, a guest at Lady Panmore's ball, complained of feeling ill, took his hat, his coat, his departure, no notice of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket, and finally his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that."

A distinguished member of the French embassy was a guest at the silver wedding celebration of an eminent bishop.

Leaning over to a neighbor, the Frenchman asked, sotto voce, "Tell me, mon cher, wat ees thees silvaire wedding which we celebrate? I do not understand."

"Oh," replied his neighbor (the bishop's nephew), "don t you know? Why, my uncle, and my aunt have lived together for twenty-five years without having any quarrels in that time."

"Ah," exclaimed the diplomat heartily, a light breaking upon him. "And now he marry her? Bravo! Bravo!

OUCH!

"Oh, Peter, how you have growed since you went away to college."

Grown, girly, grown!"

"Why, what should I groan for?"
